DEMOCRATS MAY BE BALKED YETSenators Declare They Will Not Hold Up Pres. Taft's Postoffice Appointments Next Week.

RETALIATION IS THEIR FEAR

Possibly Means That Hopes of Democrats Here Will Be Defeated.
That Postoffice.

The Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis News writes that Democratic senators who are arriving in Washington for the opening of congress Monday declare that they will make no effort to thwart President Taft's recommendations for postoffices and other positions.

This most likely means that the postmaster at the Rushville postoffice will be a Republican. The term of the present postmaster expires before the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson, and it is very probable that the local appointment will be included in the recommendations that will be sent to the senate by president Taft during the coming term.

The News correspondent writes that Democratic senators say it will undoubtedly be the policy of the senate to consider nominations on their merits; that unless it is apparent that a nomination is made for purely political reasons the senate will undoubtedly confirm. It would be foolish, they say, for the Democrats to hold up all nominations made by President Taft to fill vacancies that have occurred in the regular way, as such a course would undoubtedly lead the Republicans in the new senate, which will come in March 4, to retaliate by opposing the confirmation of appointments made by President Wilson.

Democrats who are at the pie counter, however, are still confident that the next Rushville postmaster will be a Democrat and they are all pressing their claims for the job. A large number, said to be more than a dozen, have mailed their applications to Finly H. Gray, the sixth district congressman, signing the agreements that has stipulated all post-office aspirants shall sign.

G. P. Hunt, the local hardware merchant, according to the local dopsters, seems to have the edge on most of the applicants. It is reported that the Democrats are especially anxious to put in a postmaster who will measure up the standard which has been set by the Republican party in selecting postmasters.

Because Mr. Hunt is a successful business man, and is a young man, is said to be especially in his favor. In addition he has been a staunch worker in the Democratic party ever since he cast his first vote. He has been the Democratic member of the jury commission which draws the names for the circuit court juries.

John Megee, the attorney, is said to stand well in the race. It is reported, too, that Jim Casady, vice-chairman of the county committee and long a party worker, has a show.

Other applicants who have been mentioned for the appointment are: Will Wallace, former editor of the Democratic newspaper; W. S. Oneal, partner of the firm of Oneal Brothers; Charles Markle, a local stock buyer; Mark Purcell, former county chairman; Will L. Newbold, part owner of the local Democratic newspaper; Mayor B. A. Black; John A. Spurrier, the piano dealer; Orval Sampson, deputy in the treasurer's office and once Democratic candidate for county recorder.

WILL SOON FINISH WORK

Heating Plant For Court House is Nearing Completion.

The work of installing the new boilers at the county heating plant and the repairing of the system in the court house is progressing nicely and the men in charge of the work state that the new plant will be in operation one week from Monday. It is thought by that time the work will be far enough advanced so that the heat a be turned on. The absence of heat has been a hardship to the men employed in the court house and has caused many inconveniences.

HEARS EVIDENCE
ON $3,460 CLAIMJury to Return Verdict in Suit of Lola Souther, Against Administrator.

MRS. BROOKBANK GETS ORDER

The claim of Lola Souther against Robert S. Longfellow, administrator of the estate of John F. Souther, deceased, for $3,460, was heard by a jury in the circuit court today. It was not expected that the evidence would be concluded before court adjourned this afternoon. Mrs. Souther is the wife of a son of the deceased man. She lays claim to the amount demanded for care of Mr. Souther before his death. Sparks & Gary are representing the plaintiff and Mcgee & Innis the defendant.

A temporary restraining order was granted Mrs. Fannie Brookbank of Orange township late yesterday, to prevent her husband, against whom she brought suit for divorce, from disposing of any of his property or doing harm to her. The order also allows her to recover clothes and chickens which she alleges are hers and which she is afraid to get because of threats her husband has made, the complaint alleges. The hearing on the plea for a permanent restraining order will be held Thursday, December 12.

The plaintiff in the case of the State on the relation of Mary Fears against William Archy, on a serious charge, has filed a motion for a change of venue from the county.

CHECK FOUND IN MAIL BOX

Lafayette Postmaster Writes to Learn of Local People's Mistake.

George P. Haywood, postmaster at Lafayette, has written Postmaster Charles Frazee that a pocketbook, containing a check for a good sum of money, drawn in favor of Leroy Herkless by Green & Green on the Peoples National bank of this city, and a premium receipt on a life insurance company to William L. Herkless of Carthage was found in a street letter box in West Lafayette last Saturday. The postmaster wants information as to what disposition to make of the find. It is presumed that one of the members of the family were in Lafayette last Saturday for the Indiana-Purdue football game and accidentally dropped the documents in the box.

BETTER SERVICE
TO BE REQUESTEDPetitions For More Accommodations
on L. E. & W. to be Presented to Railroad Commission.

SIGNATURES ASKED HERE

Present Schedule is no Benefit to Travelers, Business Men or Mail Patrons.

The second united effort in the history of the branch division of the L. E. & W. which operates between here and Newcastle to cause the railroad to run two trains each way daily so that it would to some extent accommodate the patrons of the road, was started today when petitions were placed in the four drug stores of the city.

The petitions were placed in the four drug stores for people to sign, and they will be presented to the State railroad commission for its action. The other time the commission was petitioned to cause the L. E. & W. to change time, the commission acted favorably but was so hampered that it could not enforce its orders. Since then its powers have been extended and it is capable of making railroads do as it orders.

Similar petitions have been placed in public places in Newcastle, Spiceland, Danreith, Mays and Sexton as residents of all these places are directly interested. Under the present schedule people living along the line can spend only an hour and a half in Rushville if they come and go on the L. E. & W. If any people living along the line go to Newcastle and expect to return by the L. E. & W. it is necessary to remain in Newcastle over night.

If the requests of the petitions in this latest effort are heeded by the commission, the schedule will be so arranged that people along the line can go to and from Rushville or Newcastle and have half day in either place.

The present schedule is a great hindrance to mail service. Newspapers or other mail from Rushville which goes on a rural route out of Mays is always a day late. For instance a letter mailed last night will not be received on a Mays rural route until Monday morning. The people of Mays are behind the movement for the better service. Sam Trabue and Will M. Sparks are representing the petitioners.

It is of interest to business men, the traveling public and to people whose mail travels over the branch division to have the change made. It is urged that people generally sign one of the petitions at one of the four drug stores at once because it is desired that the petitions be presented to the railroad commission early next week. The petition makes the following demands:

To the Railroad Commission Within and for the State of Indiana:

We the undersigned would respectfully represent to your Honorable Body that we are residents of Rush County and Henry County in the State of Indiana; that we reside along and near the right-of-way of the New Castle & Rushville Division of the Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company and travel over said Division frequently and are therefore interested in and affected by the service and accommodations furnished by said company on said Division.

We would further represent to your Honorable Body that the only passenger service rendered thereon by said Company consists of a delapidated, uncomfortable and unhealthy coach attached to a freight train; that said coach is divided

TWO LIVES LOST
IN C. H. & D. CRASHNeglect of Orders is Responsible For Head-on Collision Near Brownsville, Ind.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN DEAD

Other Members of Crews of Two Freight Trains Are Hurt—Ties
up Local Mail.

Failure to obey orders resulted in the death of two men and the injury of three others near Brownsville, a few miles east of Connorsville, late yesterday afternoon. The men were killed and injured in a head-on collision between Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton freight trains.

The dead, who both have families, are Percy Shephard, engineer, Hamilton, O., crushed to death between the locomotive and the tender and Sylvester Adams, fireman, of Indianapolis, also crushed by his engine.

The injured are Albert Young, brakeman, Hamilton, O., who was thrown against a stove and severely burned; Dale Dallas, engineer, Indianapolis, severely bruised, and F. E. Ballenger, Indianapolis, also bruised and cut. Dallas and Ballenger escaped serious injury by jumping. Conductor Porter, of the east-bound train, was slightly bruised. Dallas passed through here last night on his way home.

The wreck resulted in Rushville being without any mail from the east over the C. H. & D. for twenty-four hours. The last received came yesterday morning at 11:39 and the first train from the east arrived here about 12:30 today. Mail from the west was also late in arriving.

Freight train No. 90, west-bound, and an extra freight train, east-bound, were under orders to pass at Brownsville. Either through forgetfulness or failure to read the orders properly, the engineer of the extra did not stop at Brownsville, but went ahead at full speed, and train No. 90, which was also going at full speed, met the extra a mile east of Brownsville. A steep grade and a curve prevented the engineers from seeing each other's trains until it was too late to stop.

Four of the cars on each train were smashed in the crash and rolled down an embankment. Some of the cars contained live stock—cattle and hogs—and those that escaped injury were soon running over the adjacent fields. The other wrecked cars contained merchandise.

Both engines were badly wrecked, and it required crews from Dayton and Indianapolis several hours to clear away the debris. The track was torn up for two hundred feet each way from the point of collision.

The railroad officials are investigating with a view of fixing responsibility for the accident. In an accident at the same place fourteen years ago, an engineer was killed and other railway employees injured.

JAMES M'FADDON IS DEAD

Former Resident Passes Away at Home in Indianapolis.

James Sylvester McFaddon, 71 years old, a former resident of this city, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at his home in Indianapolis. Mr. McFaddon moved from here twenty years ago. He was a member of the G. A. R. He is survived by his widow, and three children, Clay, Conner and Miss Blanch McFaddon. The remains will be brought here Monday morning at 11:39 o'clock over the C. H. & D. and will be taken direct to East Hill cemetery where brief services will be held at the grave in charge of the G. A. R.

Fred Dalrymple Automobile Clears

Fence When Turn is Attempted
Near Omer Gartin Farm.

FOUR MEN NOT BADLY HURT

An automobile, owned and driven by Fred Dalrymple, a liveryman of Knightstown, and carrying four men, jumped a fence clear and fell upside down in a field when the driver went to make a turn in the road near Omer Gartin's farm north of Rushville shortly after last midnight.

None of the occupants of the machine was so seriously hurt but that he could go on to Knightstown. Word of the accident was telephoned to Knightstown and an automobile brought to take the men home. One man was bruised about the hip, another about the face and the other two, including the driver, were not scratched.

The top and body of the automobile was badly damaged. The engine was still running after the mishap. Several square feet of sod at the side of the road were torn up when the automobile skidded before it finally turned a somersault and alighted clear of the fence.

SELLS TENT TAKEN
FROM CITY PARKBoy Gets $1.50 For Stolen Property
and Trades Fly For an Air
Rifle.

POLICE WORKING ON CASE

Stealing a tent from the city park, trading the fly for an air-gun and selling the tent proper for $1.50 is likely to cost some boy, unknown to the police a trip to Plainfield. The tent was stolen a few night ago from the park and the police have succeeded in locating the stolen property but have not caught the young robber. The tent is the property of Sam Finney, Jr., and was used last summer by Marion Finney and Louis Hiner. A few days ago when the boys went to get the tent, they found it gone and the police were notified.

The police investigated and found one boy who had traded an air-rifle for the fly and another who had purchased the tent for $1.50. Neither of the two boys who bought the tent knew that it was stolen. Policeman Wolter has the case and it is expected that the guilty party will face the juvenile court in a few days.

PATRONS ARE RESPONDINGPostmaster Charles Frazee is Receiving Data on Prospective
Parcels Post Business.

IT WILL BE TABULATED HERE

Then Forwarded to Washington So
Estimate on Probable Business
May be Obtained.

The blanks which were sent to Postmaster Charles Frazee by the postmaster department at Washington, D. C., and which were sent out daily by prospective customers; beginning to come back into the postoffice filled with the desired data, which will be tabulated here and sent on to Washington.

It is the object of the postoffice department to learn, as near as possible, the amount of business to be expected in the Rushville zone with a view to preparing for its handling.

The following table presents in concise form the zone distances and rates of postage provided in the parcels post law:

	1st lb.	Each add'l lb.	11 lbs.
Rural route and city delivery.....	$ .05	$ .01	$ .15
Within 50-mile zone.....	.05	.03	.35
Within 150-mile zone.....	.06	.04	.46
Within 300-mile zone.....	.07	.05	.57
Within 600-mile zone.....	.08	.06	.68
Within 1000-mile zone.....	.09	.07	.79
Within 1400-mile zone.....	.10	.09	1.00
Over 1800-mile zone.....	.12	.12	1.32

Among the questions the department wishes answered are: The number of fourth-class parcels mailed daily by prospective customers; what the average number will be when the parcels post law becomes effective; their average weight and size; the proportion of the total number for local delivery; whether mailing will be daily or at stated intervals and in what quantities; whether the parcels will be insured; whether registered; whether perishable or fragile, and what percentage will be sent C. O. D. when that feature is started.

Mr. Frazee said he had no information from the department regarding the operation of the system in this zone. However, he was of the opinion that no extra help would be required in the postoffice.

The government has advertised for bids on motorcycles, and these probably will be used for city deliveries. Additional carriers will be required for this work.

Indianapolis practically is in the center of the first zone in Indiana, and it is believed all deliveries will be made from the office for that part of the zone outside of the city. According to maps issued by the government, Haughville is the center of the Indianapolis zone.

The first zone practically is square and covers a radius of fifty miles. The zone has nine units, and it is figured that each of these units is about fifteen miles wide.

While the Indianapolis zone covers a territory of practically fifty miles, it is possible to send parcels post matter to cities in other zones at the same rate, provided the unit in which the zone is situated overlaps the Indianapolis zone.

As an example it is cited that goods for delivery out of Indianapolis may be sent to North Vernon, more than fifty miles distant, but in a unit that overlaps the Indianapolis zone. Some of the principal cities in this section of the state are included in the Indianapolis zone, according to maps that have been prepared. These cities include Rushville, Shelbyville, Anderson, Tipton, Kokomo, Lafayette, Greensburg, Bloomington, Bloomfield Spencer and Greencastle.

Mr. Frazee also has received the

Lloyd-George In Danger From
a Suffragette.

Aberdeen, Nov. 30.—While searching the Music hall here where David Lloyd George, the chancellor, was scheduled to make an important speech last night, local police officers discovered a young girl who had hidden herself. The captured girl announced that she was a suffragette and, according to a current report, she carried a bomb.

The suffragette had hidden herself in the inclosure behind the organ, where the police looked as an afterthought. Little notice had been taken of the place, as it was a considerable distance from the floor. The girl struggled fiercely when taken into custody, and her clothes were torn.

The long awaited speech from Chancellor Lloyd George on the land question later was delivered in the Music Hall. It was disappointing inasmuch as it did not reveal any policy.

COLUMBIA GETS
DEAD RACE RELICS

University Has Figures Made by People Antedating Aztecs.

UNEARTHED IN RIVER BED.

Crude Objects With "Millinery" Found
Far Under Mounds of Younger Nation—Almost a Thousand Pieces in the Collection.

Relics of the oldest civilization on the American continent have been placed in Columbia university, New York. The exhibition consists of broken figures and fragments of pottery which were found by the International School of Archaeology and Ethnology in Mexico city in the course of research in the Valley of Mexico. The collection is made up of almost 1,000 pieces and illustrates the sequence of cultural types in the valley of Mexico as worked out preceding and during the Aztecs' occupation of the valley.

Professor Franz Boas of the department of anthropology at Columbia believes the excavations of the school have turned up specimens used by primitive peoples and practically all of the pottery is well advanced. Many of the heads of the figures are covered with wonderful hats and headdresses, some of which have their counterpart in millinery of today. As a rule, the figures are very small and have been rolled by the water of a river long since buried.

The heads found in this river bottom were made by hand. Eyes and ornaments of the body consist of little pellets of clay added to the figure itself.

Clothing, too, was stuck on the figure in the same way and remains only in fragments. Most of the figures bear evidence of having been painted.

That considerable time has elapsed since the depositing of the layers on the old river bed is made evident by the fact of the collection of twenty-six feet of surface soil and conditions are such it is almost certain the geography and topography of the country in and around what is now Mexico City have changed very considerably.

Report on the Discoveries.
This in part is a report which the Archaeological school has made in reference to the discoveries:

The bottom of the valley is composed of a thick layer of decomposed tufa, which is much used for making firebricks and sun dried bricks. Scattered over the surface are found large and small mounds, all of which contain archaeological remains. They are generally erected over a floor of a few layers of pebbles. All these and the surrounding surface soil contain remains characteristic of the Aztec period. It is evident, therefore, that these mounds were erected by the Aztecs and that they lived in the valley of Mexico during the period when the surface layer of the soil was deposited.

Descending farther down, the remains become a little less frequent, but they retain the same character until a depth of a little over twenty feet from the surface has been reached. In the hard decomposed tufa of this layer human bones are found every now and then, but no complete skeletons. In one place a large stone slab was encountered which covered the remains of a deer.

At a depth of twenty-one feet the character of the soil changes quite suddenly. In place of the decomposed tufa we find coarse gravel arranged in such a way as to show that a river used to flow here. The thickness of the river deposits is about seven feet. All the remains found in this layer have been rolled by water. The type which they represent is quite different from the type of the preceding stratum. The pottery is thick, and although a large number of heads are found here also, they are much ruder and show a different technique.

PESTILENCE IN QUAKE'S WAKE

Woes Tread On Each Other's Heels In Mexico.

THOUSANDS DEAD AND DYING

Details of Dread Disaster Just Begining to Filter in to the Capital, Tell
of Utter Destruction Over a Wide
Territory, Followed by Famine and Pestilence and the Attendant Horrors of Rapine and Pillage.

Mexico City, Nov. 30.—According to news of the disaster which is just filtering into the capital, thousands of persons were killed in the rural districts of Mexico by the earthquake
which rocked the entire republic a week ago, and thousands of others are dying of starvation and doomed by disease as a result of the widespread devastation. News has been received from the city of Acambay, where more than 1,000 were killed. Acambay had a population of 7,000. The entire town was razed.

Three hundred men, women and children were attending morning mass
in the Catholic church when the quake
happened, and less than a dozen were taken from the ruins alive. Not a single building within a radius of many miles of the city escaped destruction, according to government advices.

A survivor of the catastrophe at Acambay who has just arrived here
tells graphically of the awful plight
of the victims of the tremor. The quake, he said, dried all the wells, springs and streams in the region, and the only water the survivors could get
was from scattered stagnant pools,
the use of which soon spread disease
and death. None of the dead in the wrecked buildings was taken out, and the decaying bodies of humans and animals speedily bred pestilence.

The only "outsiders" he saw were bandits who rode into the devastated
cities and villages and pillaged the ruins. These bandits picked over the ruins like vultures, deaf to the pleadings of the helpless survivors, who begged for bread and water. Women were insulted, brutally handled and
men who offered resistance were shot.
The government has promised to send soldiers to drive away the bandits and thus permit the Red Cross relief expeditions to reach the stricken people.

CALL FOR HELP

Vessels Collide in Storm Off the Eastern Coast.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 30.—Meager reports received in this city tell of a collision between the American steamer
Eocene, and an unknown bark, which occurred during a thirty-mile northwest gale in latitude 35.12, longitude
75.11.

Both ships were badly damaged by the crash, and at last reports the Eocene had the bark in tow and was
endeavoring to bring her to this port.
One message received here said both
vessels needed assistance, and the revenue cutter Onondaga, which was at sea, was ordered to respond to the call.

QUESTION STILL OPEN

Uncle Sam Is Not Conducting Negotiations With Russia.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President
Taft has denied that the government
is negotiating with Russia to arrange
an agreement or modus vivendi to supercede the treaty of 1832, which will terminate on Jan. 1 next as a result of the friction between the two governments over the Jewish passport
question. In a letter to Simon Wolf
of Washington, a prominent Jewish philanthropist, Mr. Taft assures him
that no arrangement of a temporary
agreement is expected to be made.

They Finally Got Him.

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 30.—"Angie"
Hardy, aged twenty-five, the negro
school teacher bandit, was arrested
on a streetcar here after he had eluded posses for nearly a week. He expressed a willingness to return to Romney, W. Va., but fears lynching. He wants to wait in jail here until the feeling dies down. Hardy denies that he assaulted any of the four women
of the Inskeep household. Mary
Heath was beaten into insensibility by French Hardy before the latter was slain by Inskeep.

Says Will Was Genuine.

New York, Nov. 30.—Albert T. Patrick will fight to probate the second William M. Rice will. The forgery indictment found against him before
the murder indictment has been dismissed. Patrick insists that the will
was genuine and says that he was sent
to prison as the result of a tremendous conspiracy in which the heirs of
Rice had spent millions to convict him.

Destruction of Historic Town.

Washington, Tex., Nov. 30.—Fire
destroyed this entire town with the exception of two small stores. These buildings are all that are left to mark
the site of the historic old Washington where, seventy-six years ago, the convention of freemen met under the surrounding oaks and signed the declaration of independence of the republic of Texas.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache,
stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restorative. They build up the kidneys and regulate their action. They will give you quick relief and contain no habit forming drugs.

Photographs Depicting Graphic Scenes In the Heart of the Fighting Zone In the Balkan War

Photos copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

1. ONE OF THE MONTENEGRIN GUNS ON MURITZAN HILL; 2. RED CROSS CATHOLIC FATHER
AND TURKISH PRISONERS; 3. REFUGEES WITH OXCARTS PASSING THROUGH THE QUAG-MIRE INTO WHICH THE HEAVY RAINS HAD TURNED THE DUSTY ROADS NEAR SEIDLER;
4. SCENE IN THE MONTENEGRIN BATTERY ON MURITZAN HILL DURING A DUEL
BETWEEN THE MONTENEGRIN AND FORT TARABOS FORCES; 5. REFUGEES FROM THE VIL-LAGES AROUND CHORLU CROWDING ON TO THE TRAINS LEAVING FOR CONSTANTINOPLE.

ACTUAL hostilities in the present
Balkan war began on Oct. 5
with a clash between Turkish
troops and Montenegrin irregulars. Until then there had been an interchange of diplomatic notes and ofttimations between the Ottoman empire
and the smaller states to the north regarding reforms in the administration
of Macedonia, where the Christian inhabitants were complaining bitterly of their treatment at the hands of the ruling Moslems.

The powers presented notes to the various states in an effort to preserve
peace, but Montenegro, the smallest of the Balkan states, spoiled all the plans of the powers with a declaration of war against Turkey on Oct. 8.

The other Christian states deliberated the question longer than Montenegro, while the Montenegrins sent their armies against the Turks, one invading the sanjak of Novi Bazar, in which Austria's interest is so strong,
a second fighting itself into a commanding position about Tarakach, overlooking Scutari. A third army of the northern mountaineers invested

and captured Tusi, which was between this army and Scutari.

On Oct. 17, with the Montenegrin
army gaining daily in its almost continuous fighting, the other Balkan states came into the conflict, Serbia
and Greece declaring war on Turkey.

The Bulgarians immediately set out for Adrianople, the Turkish fortified
city, which protects Constantinople
from attacks from the north. They won Mustapha Pasha, regarded as the door to Adrianople, on Oct. 19. The Serbians moved toward Uskub, which holds the key to Saloniki.

After two days of hard fighting the Bulgarians captured Kirk Kilise, the most important point in their attack
on Adrianople, at the point of the bayonet. Kirk Kilise is about thirty-five miles from Adrianople.

Koumanovo then fell into the hands of the Serbians. Koumanovo is one of the strong outposts of Uskub. By the night of Oct. 26 Uskub had fallen to the Serbians, Scutari had been taken by the Montenegrins, and the Bulgarians were shelling Adrianople.

The next reports told of the Bulgars taking Baba Esk, twenty-five miles southeast of Adrianople and on the road to Constantinople. While part of the Bulgarian army remained to invest Adrianople, the remainder had simply skirted the town and started on for the capital.

Dispatches of Oct. 31 told of the capture by the Bulgarians of Lule Burgas,
commanding the Orient railway, at the left of the Turkish position in defense
of Constantinople. From Lule Burgas
the victorious Bulgarians advanced against Constantinople itself.

A conservative estimate of the killed,
permanently maimed and deaths from disease in the five armies since the war began is 50,000. The grand total cost of the war so far has been in the neighborhood of $150,000,000.

A Practical Test.

An official report just issued on savings banks throughout the United States is an absolute confirmation of the widespread prosperity of the masses of the American people, and it also shows them to be more systematic in the thrift that makes it a rule to spend less than is earned. On June 30 last, the end of the government fiscal year, there were in this country over 10,000,000 depositors in savings banks, with $4,450,000,000 to their credit, an average of $444 for each of the 10,000,000 depositors. The total savings bank deposits represent $46 for each inhabitant in the country, or $10 more for each than the per capita of money in circulation. In the last year the savings bank deposits increased $238,000,000.

This faintly expresses the gain as a whole since the Republican party resumed control of the government in 1897. In 1900 the savings banks deposits had gone up to $2,389,000,000. Since then they have nearly doubled, increasing nearly four times as fast as the population, rapidly as that advances.

Deposits in the postal banks, a branch of the same movement, have mounted quickly into millions, and come from a class not reached before by any savings institution. Those who insist that the poor are growing poorer will be busy to touch this subject. The savings habit is becoming as universal in the United States as in France, a country in which the common people have long been able to come forward with billions according to the requirements of the government, or the opportunities for investment approved by it. It will be instructive to compare the savings bank deposits four years hence with what they are now. Providing for rainy days, and struggling with them, are operations decidedly distinct from each other.

Superfluous Advice.

Everybody is lecturing the farmer nowadays. It is costing so much for food, that from the minister down to the corner grocer's boy, everyone is telling the man who makes food how he can do it cheaper.

No doubt a lot of superfluous advice is being offered the man with the hoe. At the same time some things are being said that he might well take notice of.

For instance a neighbor of the writer went out for a walk of five miles in the country the other day. During that walk he passed perhaps a dozen farm houses. He noted four valuable pieces of farm machinery that had been left in the rain, and apparently were in for a siege of rust to last all the winter. Anyone familiar with country life knows that this is a thing commonly seen.

How long would a manufacturer keep on doing business, if he allowed a roof to leak so badly that the rain fell on a costly machine every time it stormed?

Gov. Wilson could not find any Turkey for Thanksgiving dinner in Bermuda, but it is believed that Mrs. Wilson must have found a cold beef bone in the pantry left over from Sunday dinner.

Mr. Carnegie is having trouble in disposing of his money, but it is maintained that if he would patronize the "Want ads" persistently, he could get several more towns to take a library.

The Powers are trying to convince each other that they are willing to fight, by sending their soldiers out for country picnics, but they have not yet drawn any money out of the war chest.

BETTER SERVICE TO BE REQUESTED

into three (3) compartments, one compartment being used for passengers, one for the baggage, mail and express and one compartment for the office of the Conductor and crew; that the compartment provided for passengers is not and cannot be properly ventilated; that the same is not a suitable and proper coach for passenger service.

We would further represent to your Honorable Body that said coach is attached to a freight train, schedule to leave New Castle at 7:10 A. M., and arrive at Rushville at 8:30 A. M. and is scheduled to leave Rushville at 10:00 A. M., and arrive at New Castle at 11:25 A. M., on the return trip, making but one round trip each day; that said train is not operated on schedule time and that the patrons of the road are wholly unable to travel from one station to another for pleasure or for the transportation of business and return home the same day for reason that the hour and one-half schedule lay-over at Rushville is not sufficient for that purpose even if said train was operated on schedule time is frequently cut down by irregular operation and for the further reason that the north bound train to New Castle does not return the same day. That the patrons of said railroad are therefore wholly unable to travel on said division and transact their business at either terminal thereof; that said train carried the mail for the way stations and that same is not delivered early enough in the morning to be delivered by the rural route carriers until the next day and that mail is therefore delayed from twenty-four to forty-eight hours for delivery to the rural routes and that mail coming in off of the rural routes must lay in the office until the next day for dispatch.

The petitioners would further represent to your Honorable Body that there is no railroad or traction line between New Castle and Rushville other than said Lake Erie & Western and that the territory along the line of said Division is very populous, prosperous and productive and that many people could and would use said line for travel if trains were so operated as to provide suitable and comfortable transportation; that the following stations are on said line viz: Rushville, Sexton, Mays, Dunreith, Spiceland and New Castle, all of which are in thriving communities; that many of the townships through which said Division passes, voted liberal subsidies for the construction of said line of railway and that the people affected by and interested in the train service thereon are entitled to reasonable means of transportation in coaches suitably and comfortably equipped for passenger service.

Wherefore your petitioners would respectfully ask that your Honorable Body require said railroad Company to provide two trains each way daily (except Sunday) for passenger service and that one train each way be a passenger train and that the same be prohibited from carrying freight; that said trains be so scheduled as to provide for the delivery of mail at the various stations in time for rural route delivery the same day and that they be so scheduled that the patrons of the road shall have the opportunity of spending at least half of the day at either terminal and return the same day; that they be further required to furnish suitable and comfortable coaches for passenger service on each of said trains.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

A few days since some visiting young women were in Rushville and went to the home of a local girl where the crowd arranged to take in the three flicker shows. They were walking down the street when one of the visitors, in bowery parlance, asked:

"Say what's yer father do, kiddo?" (Emphasis on the "d" and hold the "o" for two full syllables.) "He's the custodian of the public building," was the reply. "Say, what's that?"

SEALS ON SALE FIRST OF WEEK

Red Cross Christmas Stickers Received Here and Will Soon be Distributed Among Merchants.

DESIGN IS ATTRACTIVE

Work This Year Will be More Effective Through Formation of Local Associations.

The Red Cross Christmas seals will be placed on sale in this city the first of next week, probably Monday. The seals have been received by Miss Jessie Kitchen, secretary of the Rush County Anti-Tuberculosis Association. The cards announcing the sale of the seals have already been placed with the merchants and next week will see the seals on sale.

Approximately 2000 persons in Indiana are already actively engaged in selling Red Cross Christmas and before the middle of December it is believed this number will be doubled. This fact is accepted as evidence of the increasing public interest in broad humanitarian efforts such as the work of curing and preventing tuberculosis.

During the last year a considerable sum has been expended in organization work in Indiana which will mean the accomplishment of definite results in preventing and curing tuberculosis in the state in the years to come. With local associations in every county in Indiana, the work of the state association will be made more effective.

The sale of Christmas seals throughout the state will provide the funds for carrying on both state and local work. It is the purpose of the State Association to co-operate with the county Association in the manner of expending funds, in order that there may not be a dissipation of the funds through lack of experience in the work.

Each County Anti-Tuberculosis Association which makes a general campaign for the sale of seals

through the county is to retain in its own treasury, seventy-five percent. of the funds realized from the sale of seals in that county. The other twenty-five per cent will be sent to the State Association to help defray the expense of the campaign and to carry on the state educational work. The State Association must also send ten per cent of the gross receipts in the entire state to the National Association in New York, as all seals and advertising matter is furnished to the state organizations by the national society.

The general purchase and use of Christmas seals during the next few weeks will make possible an enlarged work in Indiana. The 1912 seals are so attractive that it is believed the purchasers will feel that they have received full value for the money, in addition to the satisfaction of having contributed to a worthy cause.

In the center of the seal is the head of old Santa Claus, surrounded by Christmas greens. In the four corners of the seal are small red crosses representing the American Red Cross society. The seals sell for one cent each and are to be placed on the backs of envelopes and upon packages, thereby carrying a cheerful holiday greeting to those who receive them.

AMUSEMENTS

The Princess will have the usual two pictures tonight. "An Indian Nuting" is the title of a thrilling Vitagraph western drama. Lillian Walker is featured in this film. "The Love Test" is an Essanay drama.

Hattie Williams and Richard Carle will appear as co-stars at English's in Indianapolis Monday and Tuesday nights and Tuesday matinee in "The Girl From Montmartre," a farce with music. The piece is from the French and has to do with the adventures of a Paris doctor who meets a pretty, but unconventional young woman on Montmartre. Out of this meeting arises various complications of an amusing character and these, in turn, afford opportunity for the introduction of songs. Miss Williams herself sings "Don't Turn My Picture to the Wall," "Hoopla, Father Doesn't Care" and "Ooo-Ooo-Lena," three of the most popular among others. A feature of the entertainment is the interpolation of the farce by J. M. Barrie, "A Slice of Life," with Mr. Carle, Miss Williams and William Danfort in the three roles. Joe Smith, well-known for his dancing, is a member of the cast.

The boy's appetite is often the source of amazement. If you would have such an appetite take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only create a healthy appetite, but strengthen the stomach and enables it to do its work naturally.

"If I could capture every man that there is a reward offered for his apprehension, I would retire," said Chief of Police McAllister the other day.

Each morning the mail brings to the chief notices of rewards offered for different ones who are being sought for by the police of various cities. Some days a great number of these notices are received giving the description of the party or parties wanted. The rewards offered are from $25 to $1,000 and at times even greater amounts.

Some are wanted for small offenses while others have committed greater crimes and are now in hiding somewhere. These notices are received from all towns and cities in the United States.

PLOT TO GET HIM OUT OF THE WAY

Alleged Conspirators Sought Life of Burns.

TALE TOLD ON WITNESS STAND

According to Testimony of Raymond Burns, Herbert Hockin, Secretary of Iron Workers' Union, Told Him the Plan Was to Place Infernal Machine in Room Next to One Occupied by the Big Detective.

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.--In the dynamiting cases Raymond Burns and Detectives Ott, Keller and Duncan were interesting witnesses. and it came out in their testimony that a suitcase had been arranged with dynamite and clockwork to be exploded near Detective William J. Burns to prevent the unearthing of the destroyers of the Los Angeles Times building. Ott, Keller and Duncan told of their trip into the woods of Wisconsin and the meeting there with the hunting party which included McManigal and J. B. McNamara. They had followed McManigal from Chicago to see where he would connect, with the object of finding J. B. McNamara, whom they were tracing at J. B. Brice, the name he had used in California.

Raymond Burns testified that at a meeting with Herbert S. Hockin in Chicago, Hockin told him McGraw and Brice whom he (witness) was looking for, were Orrie McManigal and J. B. McNamara. He informed him that McManigal was on the eve of going on a hunting trip in the woods of Wisconsin.

It was while Detective Burns was on the trail of the dynamiters, said the witness, that Hockin told him of the plot formed in California to kill the detective. A suitcase was to be loaded with explosives and the clockwork arrangement for setting it off, and a man was to follow Burns from Los Angeles to Portland or Seattle and put the suitcase in a room in the hotel next to one that Burns should occupy. The explosion was to take place after midnight, when the man who had followed Burns with the suitcase could be far away. Tveitmo said, according to Hockin, that they would never be safe till Burns was out of the way.

NEW SCHOOL LAW

Has Had the Effect of Securing More Sanitary Schoolhouses.

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.--The industrial and agricultural education commission, appointed by the 1911 legislature to examine conditions in Indiana schools and report on the feasibility of establishing industrial and agricultural education therein, has made the final draft of its bill for the legislature and reported on the subject to Governor Marshall.

The report recommends strongly the adoption of both phases of the "new" educational ideas and the bill provides for such a law.

Figures made public by the state board of health in the interests of Indiana schools and the state sanitary schoolhouse law of 1911, show that a total of $347,820 has been spent in Indiana either in the erection of new schoolhouses or the remodeling of old to conform to the new law. The tabulation of the results of the sanitary schoolhouse law in Indiana is expected to go far toward inducing the next legislature to take even further steps in public hygiene, particularly regarding the public schools of Indiana.

Fatal Freight Wreck.

Liberty, Ind., Nov. 30.--Engineer Percy Shepherd of Hamilton, O., and Fireman Sylvester Adams of Indianapolis were killed and three other trainmen badly injured when two freight trains collided head-on at a sharp curve near Brownsville. The locomotives were demolished and eight cars of freight piled in a heap.

Little Chance to Recover.

Logansport, Ind., Nov. 30.--Mary Cav, aged thirteen, who was shot accidentally by Joseph Hill, aged thirteen, when they were hunting rabbits, apparently has little chance to recover. The bullet pierced her abdomen and lodged against the spine.

His Test Car Skidded.

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.--Thomas E. Hetzner, twenty-eight years old, a tester for a local automobile factory, was killed when the car in which he was riding threw a tire, skidded and plunged into a fence.

He Didn't Have a License.

Greenfield, Ind., Nov. 30.--H. E. Wright, a young man who for several months has been practicing osteopathy in this city, was found guilty of practicing medicine without a license and fined $50.

Escaped Convict Arrested.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 30.--Claude Poulton, an escaped convict from the Texas penitentiary, is under arrest here charged with robberies which have been going on for a week.

Teachers Meet at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 30.--The sixth annual convention of the Southwest-ern Indiana Teachers' association is in session here with an attendance of about one thousand.

THE CZARINA

Crazed by Grief, Russian Empress Attempts Suicide.

Berlin, Nov. 30.--Code dispatches received from St. Petersburg say that the czarina attempted to commit suicide after being informed by court physicians that there was no hope for the complete recovery of Grand Duke Alexis, the young czarévitch. No details of the manner in which she tried to end her life are given in the dispatch.

PHILIPPINE DISASTER WAS OVERWHELMING

Report Has It That 15,000 Were Killed.

Washington, Nov. 30.--According to dispatches received at the bureau of insular affairs, great loss of life and property has resulted from a typhoon which swept a part of the Philippine Islands. The governor general of the Philippines cabled that the destruction of the town of Tacloban practically was complete. The telegraphic communications were interrupted as a result of the storm, and so news of the great loss of life was much delayed.

Three-fourths of the town was destroyed, it is stated, and all other houses were partially damaged. How extensive the loss of life is not yet known. Tacloban has a population of about 14,000. Capiz, the capital of the province of that name on the north coast of the island of Panay, with a population of 20,000, also was in the path of the storm and was greatly damaged. One report has it that the loss of life in the islands will reach above 15,000.

MARK OF MERIT

Mabel Boardman Receives Distinguished Honor From Mikado.

Washington, Nov. 30.--The conferring of the "Fifth Order of Crown" upon Miss Mabel Boardman by Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, in recognition of Miss Boardman's distinguished services to the Red Cross, has been announced in a letter from Marquis Matsukata, head of the Japanese Red Cross, to President Taft.

The emperor, the letter states, regards Miss Boardman as one of the greatest women of the world, and has followed her work in the Red Cross with deep interest. The order conferred on her by the emperor was established in Japan by his father, the late Emperor Mutshito, for the recognition of meritorious services rendered by women.

Miss Boardman, while holding a comparatively minor position in the American Red Cross, is recognized generally as one of the prime movers and executives of that organization.

HYDE GUILTY

Jury Convicts New York's Former Chamberlain of Bribery.

New York, Nov. 30.--Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, was convicted of bribery as a public official by the jury which heard his case in Justice Goff's court. The conviction carries with it a maximum penalty of ten years' imprisonment and $5,000 fine. Sentence will be imposed next Wednesday morning by Justice Goff.

Gave Life Thinking to Save Child.

Idaville, Ind., Nov. 30.--Charles Michaels, aged sixty, near this city, was burned to death when trying to save his two-year-old granddaughter, who he thought had been left in his burning residence. The child previously had been carried from the house by relatives who tried to warn Michaels. The house fell in shortly after the old man entered the structure.

Net Destruction of Vandals.

London, Nov. 30.--So far as can be ascertained it appears that some 1500 postal packets were damaged in London Thursday night by the introduction of acids, paint and ink into the pillar postboxes. Of this number the mail clerks were able to decipher the addresses on about 1,000. The other addresses are undecipherable.

AN ARMISTICE TO BE SIGNED

Movement Toward Peace Is Billed for Today.

MINISTERS GETTING TOGETHER

Encouraging Word Comes From Scene of Conference Between Turks and Allies, Indicating That Long Sought Armistice Will Be Signed Today, After Which Negotiations Looking to Declaration of Peace Will Begin.

London, Nov. 30.--"A newspaper in close connection with the government asserts," says a Constantinople dispatch, "that it has received a direct intimation that an armistice will be signed today. The terms of the armistice will leave Adrianople to the Turks. The peace negotiations will begin immediately on a basis which has already been determined."

Two divisions of Turkish reserves surrendered to the Bulgars near the little village of Marhamli between the port of Dedeaghatz, on the Aegean and Demetika, on the railroad line to the north. Demetika is but a short distance southwest of Adrianople, around which the Bulgarian and Serb besiegers are steadily tightening their lines. The announcement of the surrender of the Turkish troops comes from Sofia.

There is rejoicing in Belgrade over the fact that Dibra, the last important town in Albania, has fallen to Serbian arms. The capture of Dibra and the peaceful occupation of Durazzo on the Adriatic, from which there may yet come fighting with Austria, present the two contrasting characteristics of the Turks' fighting men in this war.

At Dibra the troops were worn by days of hand-to-hand fighting. They had been beaten at Uskub and Salonico and Monastir. They had seen their generals kill themselves on the field of battle and their officers flee, yet they could still fight, rather than surrender, when the Serbs came up to them at Dibra. At Durazzo, on the other hand, there was a fresh garrison well provisioned which surrendered without firing a shot. The Serbs swarmed into the city and their general sent a telegram, a direct slap at Austria: "We now have occupied Durazzo for perpetuity."

Europe is being kept in a state of nervous tension by the "preparations for eventualities" which the powers directly interested in the Balkan situation are making, and by Serbia's contemptuous attitude toward Austria's prohibition against the occupation by the smaller state of a seaport on the Adriatic. According to reports reaching here from Vienna, she is mobilizing her army on the Austrian frontier for the protection of her territory.

Elsewhere a more optimistic view is held, and although a warlike feeling prevails in Vienna and St. Petersburg, the rulers and ministers of Russia and Austria-Hungary continue working to avert a conflict.

Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria gets the credit for genuinely favoring a resort to arms. Emperor Francis Joseph opposes it, however, and the compromise with which the Austrian government received the news of the Serbian occupation of Durazzo convinced diplomats here that the emperor cannot be coerced and that the Austro-Serbian conflict probably will be solved by peaceful methods.

RENEWED FRICTION

Treatment of Austrian Consul Arouses His Fellow Countrymen.

Vienna, Nov. 30.--The tension between Austria-Hungary and Serbia was greatly aggravated by the discovery that dispatches sent by Herr Prochaska, the Austrian consul at Pristrend, from Uskub, had been withheld and that others which were forwarded had been mutilated in some parts and other passages forged by Servians.

It was also learned that the Austrian flag had been insulted at Pristrend and the archives of the consulate carried off by the Servians. The great danger now is that Servian officers will refuse to allow the parties guilty of these outrages to be punished. In this case grave historic events would ensue. Sober-minded people, however, are relying on the strong influence which Russia has over Serbia and which she is bringing to bear to maintain peaceful relations between that country and Austria-Hungary.

J. FRANK HICKEY

Chemist Who Confessed Cruel Murder of Boys.

HICKEY CONFESSES CRIMES TO POLICE

Murderer of Boys Unbosoms Himself.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.--A full confession of the murder on Oct. 12, 1911, of Joseph Joseph, the seven-year-old Lackawanna boy, and of Michael Kruck, the New York newsboy, Dec. 12, 1902, has been made by J. Frank Hickey. The whole story has been reduced to a formal statement and has been signed by Hickey.

The body of Michael Kruck was found in an excavation in Central park, New York, Dec. 10, 1902. Suspicion was directed toward Hickey at the time, and he was found in Buffalo in a maudlin condition. In a semi-delirious state he confessed the murder, but when the effects of the liquor wore off he repudiated the confession and was subsequently released owing to a lack of evidence.

Hickey attributed his crimes to the excessive use of liquor. When he was drunk, he said, he was possessed by an irresistible mania for killing boys. He was a chemist and for a short time was employed in Lackawanna. Postal cards he wrote to the police and to the father of the Joseph boy, telling where the lad's body had been concealed, led to his arrest, through a comparison of handwriting.

Hickey was arrested at a colony for inebriates at Whiting, N. J., Nov. 19. At that time he denied all knowledge of the crime.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The army and navy football game is on at Philadelphia this afternoon.

The annual conference of governors will be held at Richmond, Va., next week.

Cipriano Castro, the former president of Venezuela, has left Tenerife for Germany.

Colonel Roosevelt will attend the national conference of the Progressive party at Chicago on Dec. 10 and 11.

Senator Root and Senator Guggenheim each pay $25,000 a year for the apartments they occupy in New York.

The year 1912 will set a new record for world's commerce, according to estimates announced by the bureau of commerce.

Hearings preparatory to shaping the tariff legislation at the new session of congress will be begun immediately after the holidays.

A Greek soldier at Salonica has been court-martialed and sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment for stealing a civilian's revolver.

Three negroes who attacked and seriously wounded a deputy sheriff in Bossier parish, Louisiana, were taken from their guards and lynched.

It is said that August Belmont is trying to find some way of having the recent marriage of his son Raymond to Ethel Loraine, an actress, declared invalid.

Emmett S. Bagby, assistant cashier of the City National bank of Paducah, Ky., shot and killed himself while examiners were working on the institution's books.

Governor Goldsborough of Maryland has appointed William Purnell Jackson, president of the National Bank of Salisbury, United States senator, succeeding the late Isidor Rayner.

At a meeting at Valona a gathering of delegates from all parts of Albania, without religious distinction, proclaimed the independence of Albania and constituted a provisional government. Inability of the engineer to see the flagman in the fog caused a rear-end collision of two freight trains on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ten miles below Wheeling, and four trainmen were seriously injured.

It is rumored that John Mitchell, second vice president of the American Federation of Labor, will be appointed to a place in the industrial commission created by an act passed at the last session of congress.

postoffice rate for anything that is acceptable for mailing by parcels post. The local rate on one pound will be 5 cents and the zone rate is the same. For two pounds the local rate is 6 cents and the zone rate 8 cents. The local rate increases 1 cent a pound and 2 cents a pound for the zone. The maximum weight of any package is eleven pounds.

It must be understood that the local rate does not apply to Rushville alone, but to all territory in Rush county that is served by rural deliveries. The rates to other zones increase with the mileage traveled. For example, a one-pound package intended for the second zone, which embraces a territory of 150 miles, is 6 cents. Twelve cents is the charge for the same package in the eighth zone which is one thousand eight hundred or more miles from the first zone. A package weighing eleven pounds may be sent fifty miles for 35 cents, 150 miles for 46 cents, 300 miles for 57 cents, 600 miles for 68 cents and 1,800 miles or more, the territory covered by the eighth and last zone, for $1.32.

The postoffice department also has provided for a special delivery service for the usual special delivery fees for patrons living on rural or star delivery route and at free delivery windows. Packages may be insured against loss in an amount equivalent to their actual value, but not to exceed $25 on the payment of a fee of 5 cents. Distinctive stamps will be provided and they must be used on all parcels, but they may be mailed in quantities of not fewer than two thousand identical pieces without stamps affixed, the postage being paid in money.

STANDING BY PLATFORM.

Muncie Press: The "progressive" state platform demanded the commission form of government for cities. But the "progressive" politicians in Indianapolis and other cities of the state, instead of assisting in securing the enactment of such legislation, eliminating party politics from municipal government, are already trotting out candidates for municipal office and betraying their insatiable hunger for political pie.

That Postoffice.

The Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis News writes that Democratic senators who are arriving in Washington for the opening of congress Monday declare that they will make no effort to thwart President Taft's recommendations for postoffices and other positions.

This most likely means that the postmaster at the Rushville postoffice will be a Republican. The term of the present postmaster expires before the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson, and it is very probable that the local appointment will be included in the recommendations that will be sent to the senate by president Taft during the coming term.

The News correspondent writes that Democratic senators say it will undoubtedly be the policy of the senate to consider nominations on their merits; that unless it is apparent that a nomination is made for purely political reasons the senate will undoubtedly confirm. It would be foolish, they say, for the democrats to hold up all nominations made by President Taft to fill vacancies that have occurred in the regular way, as such a course would undoubtedly lead the Republicans in the new senate, which will come in March 4, to retaliate by opposing the confirmation of appointments made by President Wilson.

Democrats who are at the pie counter, however, are still confident that the next Rushville postmaster will be a Democrat and they are all pressing their claims for the job. A large number, said to be more than a dozen, have mailed their applications to Finly H. Gray, the sixth district congressman, signing the agreements that has stipulated all post-office aspirants shall sign.

G. P. Hunt, the local hardware merchant, according to the local dopsters, seems to have the edge on most of the applicants. It is reported that the Democrats are especially anxious to put in a postmaster who will measure up the standard which has been set by the Republican party in selecting postmasters.

Because Mr. Hunt is a successful business man, and is a young man, is said to be especially in his favor. In addition he has been a staunch worker in the Democratic party ever since he cast his first vote. He has been the Democratic member of the jury commission which draws the names for the circuit court juries.

John Megee, the attorney, is said to stand well in the race. It is reported, too, that Jim Casady, vice-chairman of the county committee and long a party worker, has a show.

Other applicants who have been mentioned for the appointment are: Will Wallace, former editor of the Democratic newspaper; W. S. Onenl, partner of the firm of Onenl Brothers; Charles Markle, a local stock buyer; Mark Purcell, former county chairman; Will L. Newbold, part owner of the local Democratic newspaper; Mayor B. A. Black; John A. Spurrier, the piano dealer; Orval Sampson, deputy in the treasurer's office and once Democratic candidate for county recorder.

MRS. BROOKBANK GETS ORDER

The claim of Lola Souther against Robert S. Longfellow, administrator of the estate of John F. Souther, deceased, for $3,460, was heard by a jury in the circuit court today. It was not expected that the evidence would be concluded before court adjourned this afternoon. Mrs. Souther is the wife of a son of the deceased man. She lays claim to the amount demanded for care of Mr. Souther before his death. Sparks & Gary are representing the plaintiff and Megee & Innis the defendant.

A temporary restraining order was granted Mrs. Fannie Brookbank of Orange township late yesterday, to prevent her husband, against whom she brought suit for divorce, from disposing of any of his property or doing harm to her. The order also allows her to recover clothes and chickens which she alleges are hers and which she is afraid to get because of threats her husband has made, the complaint alleges. The hearing on the plea for a permanent restraining order will be held Thursday, December 12.

The plaintiff in the case of the State on the relation of Mary Fears against William Archy, on a serious charge, has filed a motion for a change of venue from the county.

CHECK FOUND IN MAIL BOX

Lafayette Postmaster Writes to Learn of Local People's Mistake.

George P. Haywood, postmaster at Lafayette, has written Postmaster Charles Frazee that a postmaster, containing a check for a good sum of money, drawn in favor of Leroy Herkless by Green & Green on the Peoples National bank of this city, and a premium receipt on a life insurance company to William L. Herkless of Carthage was found in a street letter box in West Lafayette last Saturday. The postmaster wants information as to what disposition to make of the find. It is presumed that one of the members of the family were in Lafayette last Saturday for the Indiana-Purdue football game and accidentally dropped the documents in the box.

BETTER SERVICE TO BE REQUESTED

Petitions For More Accommodations
on L. E. & W. to be Presented to Railroad Commission.

SIGNATURES ASKED HERE

Present Schedule is no Benefit to Travelers, Business Men or Mail Patrons.

The second united effort in the history of the branch division of the L. E. & W. which operates between here and Newcastle to cause the railroad to run two trains each way daily so that it would to some extent accommodate the patrons of the road, was started today when petitions were placed in the four drug stores of the city.

The petitions were placed in the four drug stores for people to sign, and they will be presented to the State railroad commission for its action. The other time the commission was petitioned to cause the L. E. & W. to change time, the commission acted favorably but was so hampered that it could not enforce its orders. Since then its powers have been extended and it is capable of making railroads do as it orders.

Similar petitions have been placed in public places in Newcastle, Spiceland, Dunreith, Mays and Sexton as residents of all these places are directly interested. Under the present schedule people living along the line can spend only an hour and a half in Rushville if they come and go on the L. E. & W. If any people living along the line go to Newcastle and expect to return by the L. E. & W. it is necessary to remain in Newcastle over night.

If the requests of the petitions in this latest effort are heeded by the commission, the schedule will be so arranged that people along the line can go to and from Rushville or Newcastle and have half day in either place.

The present schedule is a great hindrance to mail service. Newspapers or other mail from Rushville which goes on a rural route out of Mays is always a day late. For instance a letter mailed last night will not be received on a Mays rural route until Monday morning. The people of Mays are behind the movement for the better service. Sam Trabue and Will M. Sparks are representing the petitioners.

It is of interest to business men, the traveling public and to people whose mail travels over the branch division to have the change made. It is urged that people generally sign one of the petitions at one of the four drug stores at once because it is desired that the petitions be presented to the railroad commission early next week. The petition makes the following demands:

To the Railroad Commission Within and for the State of Indiana:

We the undersigned would respectfully represent to your Honorable Body that we are residents of Rush County and Henry County in the State of Indiana; that we reside along and near the right-of-way of the New Castle & Rushville Division of the Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company and travel over said Division frequently and are therefore interested in and affected by the service and accommodations furnished by said company on said Division.

We would further represent to your Honorable Body that the only passenger service rendered thereon by said Company consists of a despatched, uncomfortable and unhealthy coach attached to a freight train; that said coach is divided

TWO LIVES LOST IN C. H. & D. CRASH

Neglect of Orders is Responsible For Head-on Collision Near Browns-
ville, Ind.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN DEAD

Other Members of Crews of Two Freight Trains Are Hurt—Ties
up Local Mail.

Failure to obey orders resulted in the death of two men and the injury of three others near Brownsville, a few miles east of Connersville, late yesterday afternoon. The men were killed and injured in a head-on collision between Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton freight trains.

The dead, who both have families, are Percy Shephard, engineer, Hamilton, O., crushed to death between the locomotive and the tender and Sylvester Adams, fireman, of Indianapolis, also crushed by his engine.

The injured are Albert Young, brakeman, Hamilton, O., who was thrown against a stove and severely burned; Dale Dallas, engineer, Indianapolis, severely bruised, and F. E. Ballenger, Indianapolis, also bruised and cut. Dallas and Ballenger escaped serious injury by jumping. Conductor Porter, of the east-bound train, was slightly bruised. Dallas passed through here last night on his way home.

The wreck resulted in Rushville being without any mail from the east over the C. H. & D. for twenty-four hours. The last received came yesterday morning at 11:39 and the first train from the east arrived here about 12:30 today. Mail from the west was also late in arriving.

Freight train No. 90, west-bound, and an extra freight train, east-bound, were under orders to pass at Brownsville. Either through forgetfulness or failure to read the orders properly, the engineer of the extra did not stop at Brownsville, but went ahead at full speed, and train No. 90, which was also going at full speed, met the extra a mile east of Brownsville. A steep grade and a curve prevented the engineers from seeing each other's trains until it was too late to stop.

Four of the cars on each train were smashed in the crash and rolled down an embankment. Some of the cars contained live stock—cattle and hogs—and those that escaped injury were soon running over the adjacent fields. The other wrecked cars contained merchandise.

Both engines were badly wrecked, and it required crews from Dayton and Indianapolis several hours to clear away the debris. The track was torn up for two hundred feet each way from the point of collision.

The railroad officials are investigating with a view of fixing responsibility for the accident. In an accident at the same place fourteen years ago, an engineer was killed and other railway employees injured.

Fred Dalrymple Automobile Clears
Fence When Turn is Attempted
Near Omer Gartin Farm.

FOUR MEN NOT BADLY HURT

An automobile, owned and driven by Fred Dalrymple, a liveryman of Knightstown, and carrying four men, jumped a fence clear and fell upside down in a field when the driver went to make a turn in the road near Omer Gartin's farm north of Rushville shortly after last midnight.

None of the occupants of the machine was so seriously hurt but that he could go on to Knightstown. Word of the accident was telephoned to Knightstown and an automobile brought to take the men home. One man was bruised about the hip, another about the face and the other two, including the driver, were not scratched.

The top and body of the automobile was badly damaged. The engine was still running after the mishap. Several square feet of sod at the side of the road were torn up when the automobile skidded before it finally turned a somersault and alighted clear of the fence.

SELLS TENT TAKEN FROM CITY PARK

Boy Gets $1.50 For Stolen Property
and Trades Fly For an Air
Rifle.

POLICE WORKING ON CASE

Stealing a tent from the city park, trading the fly for an air-gun and selling the tent proper for $1.50 is likely to cost some boy, unknown to the police a trip to Plainfield. The tent was stolen a few night ago from the park and the police have succeeded in locating the stolen property but have not caught the young robber. The tent is the property of Sam Finney, Jr., and was used last summer by Marion Finney and Louis Hiner. A few days ago when the boys went to get the tent, they found it gone and the police were notified.

The police investigated and found one boy who had traded an air-rifle for the fly and another who had purchased the tent for $1.50. Neither of the two boys who bought the tent knew that it was stolen. Policeman Wolter has the case and it is expected that the guilty party will face the juvenile court in a few days.

PATRONS ARE RESPONDING

Postmaster Charles Frazee is Receiving Data on Prospective
Parcels Post Business.

IT WILL BE TABULATED HERE

Then Forwarded to Washington So
Estimate on Probable Business
May be Obtained.

The blanks which were sent to Postmaster Charles Frazee by the postmaster department at Washington, D. C., and which were sent out daily by prospective customers; beginning to come back into the postoffice filled with the desired data, which will be tabulated here and sent on to Washington.

It is the object of the postoffice department to learn, as near as possible, the amount of business to be expected in the Rushville zone with a view to preparing for its handling.

The following table presents in concise form the zone distances and rates of postage provided in the parcels post law:

	1st lb.	Each add'l lb.	11 lb.
Rural route and city de- livery.....	5¢	$ .01	$ .15
Within 50-mile zone.....	5¢	.01	.25
Within 150-mile zone.....	6¢	.04	.45
Within 300-mile zone.....	7¢	.05	.57
Within 600-mile zone.....	8¢	.06	.68
Within 1000-mile zone.....	9¢	.07	.79
Within 1400-mile zone.....	10¢	.08	1.00
Over 1500-mile zone.....	12¢	.12	1.32

Among the questions the department wishes answered are: The number of fourth-class parcels mailed daily by prospective customers; what the average number will be when the parcels post law becomes effective; their average weight and size; the proportion of the total number for local delivery; whether mailing will be daily or at stated intervals and in what quantities; whether the parcels will be insured; whether registered; whether perishable or fragile; and what percentage will be sent C. O. D. when that feature is started.

Mr. Frazee said he had no information from the department regarding the operation of the system in this zone. However, he was of the opinion that no extra help would be required in the postoffice.

The government has advertised for bids on motorcycles, and these probably will be used for city deliveries. Additional carriers will be required for this work.

Indianapolis practically is in the center of the first zone in Indiana, and it is believed all deliveries will be made from the office for that part of the zone outside of the city. According to maps issued by the government, Haughville is the center of the Indianapolis zone.

The first zone practically is square and covers a radius of fifty miles. The zone has nine units, and it is figured that each of these units is about fifteen miles wide.

While the Indianapolis zone covers a territory of practically fifty miles, it is possible to send parcels post matter to cities in other zones at the same rate, provided the unit in which the zone is situated overlaps the Indianapolis zone.

As an example it is cited that goods for delivery out of Indianapolis may be sent to North Vernon, more than fifty miles distant, but in a unit that overlaps the Indianapolis zone. Some of the principal cities in this section of the state are included in the Indianapolis zone, according to maps that have been prepared. These cities include Rushville, Shelbyville, Anderson, Tipton, Kokomo, Lafayette, Greensburg, Bloomington, Bloomfield Spencer and Greencastle.

Mr. Frazee also has received the

Lloyd-George in Danger From
a Suffragette.

Aberdeen, Nov. 30.—While searching the Music hall here where David Lloyd George, the chancellor, was scheduled to make an important speech last night, local police officers discovered a young girl who had hidden herself. The captured girl announced that she was a suffragette and, according to a current report, she carried a bomb.

The suffragette had hidden herself in the inclosure behind the organ, where the police looked as an afterthought. Little notice had been taken of the place, as it was a considerable distance from the floor. The girl struggled fiercely when taken into custody, and her clothes were torn.

The long awaited speech from Chancellor Lloyd George on the land question later was delivered in the Music Hall. It was disappointing inasmuch as it did not reveal any policy.

UNEARTHED IN RIVER BED.

Crude Objects With "Millinery" Found
Far Under Mounds of Younger Nation—Almost a Thousand Pieces in the Collection.

Relics of the oldest civilization on the American continent have been placed in Columbia university, New York. The exhibition consists of broken figures and fragments of pottery which were found by the International School of Archaeology and Ethnology in Mexico city in the course of research in the Valley of Mexico. The collection is made up of almost 1,000 pieces and illustrates the sequence of cultural types in the valley of Mexico as worked out preceding and during the Aztecs' occupation of the valley.

Professor Franz Boas of the department of anthropology at Columbia believes the excavations of the school have turned up specimens used by primitive peoples and practically all of the pottery is well advanced. Many of the heads of the figures are covered with wonderful hats and headdresses, some of which have their counterpart in millinery of today. As a rule, the figures are very small and have been rolled by the water of a river long since buried.

The heads found in this river bottom were made by hand. Eyes and ornaments of the body consist of little pe-

lets of clay added to the figure itself. Clothing, too, was stuck on the figure in the same way and remains only in fragments. Most of the figures bear evidence of having been painted.

That considerable time has elapsed since the depositing of the layers on the old river bed is made evident by the fact of the collection of twenty-six feet of surface soil and conditions are such it is almost certain the geography and topography of the country in and around what is now Mexico City have changed very considerably.

Report on the Discoveries.

This in part is a report which the Archaeological school has made in reference to the discoveries:

The bottom of the valley is composed of a thick layer of decomposed tufa, which is much used for making firebricks and sun dried bricks. Scattered over the surface are found large and small mounds, all of which contain archaeological remains. They are generally erected over a floor of a few layers of pebbles. All these and the surrounding surface soil contain remains characteristic of the Aztec period. It is evident, therefore, that these mounds were erected by the Aztecs and that they lived in the valley of Mexico during the period when the surface layer of the soil was deposited.

Descending farther down, the remains become a little less frequent, but they retain the same character until a depth of a little over twenty feet from the surface has been reached. In the hard decomposed tufa of this layer human bones are found every now and then, but no complete skeletons. In one place a large stone slab was encountered which covered the remains of a deer.

At a depth of twenty-one feet the character of the soil changes quite suddenly. In place of the decomposed tufa we find coarse gravel arranged in such a way as to show that a river used to flow here. The thickness of the river deposits is about seven feet. All the remains found in this layer have been rolled by water. The type which they represent is quite different from the type of the preceding stratum. The pottery is thick, and, although a large number of heads are found here also, they are much ruder and show a different technique.

PESTILENCE IN QUAKE'S WAKEWoes Tread On Each Other's Heels In Mexico.

THOUSANDS DEAD AND DYING

Details of Dread Disaster Just Beginning to Filter in to the Capital, Tell
of Utter Destruction Over a Wide
Territory, Followed by Famine and Pestilence and the Attendant Horrors of Rapine and Pillage.Mexico City, Nov. 30.—According to news of the disaster which is just filtering into the capital, thousands of persons were killed in the rural districts of Mexico by the earthquake
which rocked the entire republic a
week ago, and thousands of others are
dying of starvation and doomed by
disease as a result of the widespread devastation. News has been received from the city of Acambay, where more than 1,000 were killed. Acambay had a population of 7,000. The entire town was razed.Three hundred men, women and children were attending morning mass
in the Catholic church when the quake
happened, and less than a dozen were taken from the ruins alive. Not a single building within a radius of
many miles of the city escaped destruction, according to government advices.A survivor of the catastrophe at Acambay who has just arrived here
tells graphically of the awful plight
of the victims of the tremor. The quake, he said, dried all the wells, springs
and streams in the region, and the
only water the survivors could get
was from scattered stagnant pools,
the use of which soon spread disease
and death. None of the dead in the wrecked buildings was taken out, andthe decaying bodies of humans and animals speedily bred pestilence.The only "outsiders" he saw were bandits who rode into the devastated
cities and villages and pillaged the ruins. These bandits picked over the ruins like vultures, deaf to the plead-
ings of the helpless survivors, who begged for bread and water. Women
were insulted, brutally handled and
men who offered resistance were shot.
The government has promised to send
soldiers to drive away the bandits and
thus permit the Red Cross relief expeditions to reach the stricken people.

ern Coast.Norfolk, Va., Nov. 30.—Meager reports received in this city tell of a collision between the American steamer
Eocene, and an unknown bark, which
occurred during a thirty-mile northwest gale in latitude 35.12, longitude
75.11.Both ships were badly damaged by
the crash, and at last reports the Eocene had the bark in tow and was
endeavoring to bring her to this port.
One message received here said both
vessels needed assistance, and the revenue cutter Onondaga, which was at sea, was ordered to respond to the call.

QUESTION STILL OPEN

Uncle Sam Is Not Conducting Negotiations With Russia.Washington, Nov. 30.—President Taft has denied that the government
is negotiating with Russia to arrange
an agreement or modus vivendi to su-
percede the treaty of 1832, which will terminate on Jan. 1 next as a result
of the friction between the two governments over the Jewish passport
question. In a letter to Simon Wolf
of Washington, a prominent Jewish philanthropist, Mr. Taft assures him
that no arrangement of a temporary
agreement is expected to be made.

They Finally Got Him.

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 30.—"Angie"
Hardy, aged twenty-five, the negro
school teacher bandit, was arrested
on a streetcar here after he had eluded posses for nearly a week. He expressed a willingness to return to Romney, W. Va., but fears lynching. He wants to wait in jail here until the feeling dies down. Hardy denies that
he assaulted any of the four women
of the Inskeep household. Mary
Heath was beaten into insensibility by French Hardy before the latter was slain by Inskeep.

Says Will Was Genuine.

New York, Nov. 30.—Albert T. Patrick will fight to probate the second William M. Rice will. The forgery indictment found against him before
the murder indictment has been dismissed. Patrick insists that the will
was genuine and says that he was sent
to prison as the result of a tremendous conspiracy in which the heirs of
Rice had spent millions to convict him.

Destruction of Historic Town.

Washington, Tex., Nov. 30.—Fire
destroyed this entire town with the exception of two small stores. These buildings are all that are left to mark
the site of the historic old Washington where, seventy-six years ago, the
convention of freemen met under the
surrounding oaks and signed the declaration of independence of the republic of Texas.Twinges of rheumatism, backache,
stiff joints and shooting pains all
show your kidneys are not working
right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and
sore kidneys tell the need of a good
reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kid-

TWEEN THE MONTENEGRIN AND FORT TARABOS FORCES; 5, REFUGEES FROM THE VI-
LAGES AROUND CHORLU CROWDING ON TO THE TRAINS LEAVING FOR CONSTANTINOPLE.ACTUAL hostilities in the present
Balkan war began on Oct. 5
with a clash between Turkish
troops and Montenegrin irregu-
lars. Until then there had been an interchange of diplomatic notes and ap-proposals between the Ottoman empire
and the smaller states to the north regarding reforms in the administration
of Macedonia, where the Christian inhabitants were complaining bitterly of
their treatment at the hands of the ruling Moslems.The powers presented notes to the various states in an effort to preserve
peace, but Montenegro, the smallest of the Balkan states, spied all the plans
of the powers with a declaration of war against Turkey on Oct. 8.The other Christian states deliberated the question longer than Montenegro, while the Montenegrins sent their armies against the Turks, one
invading the sanjak of Novi Bazar, in
which Austria's interest is so strong,
a second fighting their way into a com-manding position about Tarakach, overlooking Scutari. A third army of the northern mountaineers invested
and captured Tusi, which was between this army and Scutari.On Oct. 17, with the Montenegrin
army gaining daily in its almost continuous fighting, the other Balkan
states came into the conflict. Serbia and Greece declared war on Turkey.The Bulgarians immediately set out for Adrianople, the Turkish fortified
city, which protects Constantinople
from attacks from the north. They won Mustapha Pasha, regarded as the door to Adrianople, on Oct. 19. The Serbians moved toward Uskub, which holds the key to Saloniki.After two days of hard fighting the Bulgarians captured Kirk Killse, the most important point in their attack
on Adrianople, at the point of the bayonet. Kirk Killse is about thirty-five miles from Adrianople.Koumanovo then fell into the hands of the Serbians. Koumanovo is oneof the strong outposts of Uskub. By the night of Oct. 26 Uskub had fallen to the Serbians. Scutari had been taken by the Montenegrins, and the Bulgarians were shelling Adrianople.The next reports told of the Bulgars taking Baba Eski, twenty-five miles southeast of Adrianople and on the road to Constantinople. While part of
the Bulgarian army remained to invest Adrianople, the remainder had simply
skirted the town and started on for the capital.Dispatches of Oct. 31 told of the capture by the Bulgarians of Lule Burgas,
commanding the Orient railway, at the
left of the Turkish position in defense
of Constantinople. From Lule Burgas
the victorious Bulgarians advanced against Constantinople itself.A conservative estimate of the killed, permanently maimed and deaths from
disease in the five armies since the war began is 50,000. The grand total cost of the war so far has been in the neighborhood of $150,000,000.

A Practical Test.

An official report just issued on savings banks throughout the United States is an absolute confirmation of the widespread prosperity of the masses of the American people, and it also shows them to be more systematic in the thrift that makes it a rule to spend less than is earned. On June 30 last, the end of the government fiscal year, there were in this country over 10,000,000 depositors in savings banks, with $1,450,000,000 to their credit, an average of $144 for each of the 10,000,000 depositors. The total savings bank deposits represent $46 for each inhabitant in the country, or $10 more for each than the per capita of money in circulation. In the last year the savings bank deposits increased $238,000,000.

This fairly expresses the gain as a whole since the Republican party resumed control of the government in 1897. In 1900 the savings banks deposits had gone up to $2,389,000,000. Since then they have nearly doubled, increasing nearly four times as fast as the population, rapidly as that advances.

Deposits in the postal banks, a branch of the same movement, have mounted quickly into millions, and come from a class not reached before by any savings institution. Those who insist that the poor are growing poorer will be busy to touch this subject. The savings habit is becoming as universal in the United States as in France, a country in which the common people have long been able to come forward with billions according to the requirements of the government, or the opportunities for investment approved by it. It will be instructive to compare the savings bank deposits four years hence with what they are now. Providing for rainy days, and struggling with them, are operations decidedly distinct from each other.

Superfluous Advice.

Everybody is lecturing the farmer nowadays. It is costing so much for food, that from the minister down to the corner grocer's boy, everyone is telling the man who makes food how he can do it cheaper.

No doubt a lot of superfluous advice is being offered the man with the hoe. At the same time some things are being said that he might well take notice of.

For instance a neighbor of the writer went out for a walk of five miles in the country the other day. During that walk he passed perhaps a dozen farm houses. He noted four valuable pieces of farm machinery that had been left in the rain, and apparently were in for a siege of rust to last all the winter. Anyone familiar with country life knows that this is a thing commonly seen.

How long would a manufacturer keep on doing business, if he allowed a roof to leak so badly that the rain

fell on a costly machine every time it stormed?

Gov. Wilson could not find any Turkey for Thanksgiving dinner in Bermuda, but it is believed that Mrs. Wilson must have found a cold beef bone in the pantry left over from Sunday dinner.

Mr. Carnegie is having trouble in disposing of his money, but it is maintained that if he would patronize the Want ads persistently, he could get several more towns to take a library.

The Powers are trying to convince each other that they are willing to fight, by sending their soldiers out for country picnics, but they have not yet drawn any money out of the war chest.

into three (3) compartments, one compartment being used for passengers, one for the baggage, mail and express and one compartment for the office of the Conductor and crew; that the compartment provided for passengers is not and cannot be properly ventilated; that the same is not a suitable and proper coach for passenger service.

We would further represent to your Honorable Body that said coach is attached to a freight train, schedule to leave New Castle at 7:10 A. M., and arrive at Rushville at 8:30 A. M. and is scheduled to leave Rushville at 10:00 A. M. and arrive at New Castle at 11:25 A. M., on the return trip, making but one round trip each day; that said train is not operated on schedule time and that the patrons of the road are wholly unable to travel from one station to another for pleasure or for the transportation of business and return home the same day for reason that the hour and one-half schedule lay-over at Rushville is not sufficient for that purpose even if said train was operated on schedule time is frequently cut down by irregular operation and for the further reason that the north bound train to New Castle does not return the same day. That the patrons of said railroad are therefore wholly unable to travel on said division and transact their business at either terminal thereof; that said train carried the mail for the way stations and that same is not delivered early enough in the morning to be delivered by the rural route carriers until the next day and that mail is therefore delayed from twenty-four to forty-eight hours for delivery to the rural routes and that mail coming in off of the rural routes must lay in the office until the next day for dispatch.

The petitioners would further represent to your Honorable Body that there is no railroad or traction line between New Castle and Rushville other than said Lake Erie & Western and that the territory along the line of said Division is very populous, prosperous and productive and that many people could and would use said line for travel if trains were so operated as to provide suitable and comfortable transportation; that the following stations are on said line viz: Rushville, Sexton, Mays, Dunreith, Spiceland and New Castle, all of which are in thriving communities; that many of the townships through which said Division passes, voted liberal subsidies for the construction of said line of railway and that the people affected by and interested in the train service thereon are entitled to reasonable means of transportation in coaches suitably and comfortably equipped for passenger service.

Wherefore your petitioners would respectfully ask that your Honorable Body require said railroad Company to provide two trains each way daily (except Sunday) for passenger service and that one train each way be a passenger train and that the same be prohibited from carrying freight; that said trains be so scheduled as to provide for the delivery of mail at the various stations in time for rural route delivery the same day and that they be so scheduled that the patrons of the road shall have the opportunity of spending at least half of the day at either terminal and return the same day; that they be further required to furnish suitable and comfortable coaches for passenger service on each of said trains.

A few days since some visiting young women were in Rushville and went to the home of a local girl where the crowd arranged to take in the three flicker shows. They were walking down the street when one of the visitors, in bowery parlance, asked:

"Say what's yer father do, kiddo?" (Emphasis on the "d" and hold the "o" for two full syllables.)

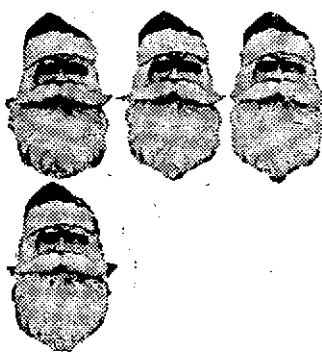

"He's the custodian of the public building," was the reply.

"Say, what's that?"

SEALS ON SALE FIRST OF WEEK

Red Cross Christmas Stickers Received Here and Will Soon be Distributed Among Merchants.

DESIGN IS ATTRACTIVE

Work This Year Will be More Effective Through Formation of Local Associations.

The Red Cross Christmas seals will be placed on sale in this city the first of next week, probably Monday. The seals have been received by Miss Jessie Kitchen, secretary of the Rush County Anti-Tuberculosis Association. The cards announcing the sale of the seals have already been placed with the merchants and next week will see the seals on sale.

Approximately 2000 persons in Indiana are already actively engaged in selling Red Cross Christmas and before the middle of December it is believed this number will be doubled. This fact is accepted as evidence of the increasing public interest in broad humanitarian efforts such as the work of curing and preventing tuberculosis.

During the last year a considerable sum has been expended in organization work in Indiana which will mean the accomplishment of definite results

in preventing and curing tuberculosis in the state in the years to come. With local associations in every county in Indiana, the work of the state association will be made more effective.

The sale of Christmas seals throughout the state will provide the funds for carrying on both state and local work. It is the purpose of the State Association to co-operate with the county Association in the manner of expending funds, in order that there may not be a dissipation of the funds through lack of experience in the work.

Each County Anti-Tuberculosis Association which makes a general campaign for the sale of seals

through the county is to retain in its own treasury, seventy-five percent, of the funds realized from the sale of seals in that county. The other twenty-five per cent will be sent to the State Association to help defray the expense of the campaign and to carry on the state educational work. The State Association must also send ten per cent of the gross receipts in the entire state to the National Association in New York, as all seals and advertising matter is furnished to the state organizations by the national society.

The general purchase and use of Christmas seals during the next few weeks will make possible an enlarged work in Indiana. The 1912 seals are so attractive that it is believed the purchasers will feel that they have received full value for the money, in addition to the satisfaction of having contributed to a worthy cause.

In the center of the seal is the head of old Santa Claus, surrounded by Christmas greens. In the four corners of the seal are small red crosses representing the American Red Cross society. The seals sell for one cent each and are to be placed on the backs of envelopes and upon packages, thereby carrying a cheerful holiday greeting to those who receive them.

AMUSEMENTS

The Princess will have the usual two pictures tonight. "An Indian Xuting" is the title of a thrilling Vitagraph western drama. Lillian Walker is featured in this film. "The Love Test" is an Essanay drama.

Hattie Williams and Richard Carle will appear as co-stars at English's in Indianapolis Monday and Tuesday nights and Tuesday matinee in "The Girl From Montmartre," a farce with music. The piece is from the French and has to do with the adventures of a Paris doctor who meets a pretty, but unconventional young woman on Montmartre. Out of this meeting arises various complications of an amusing character and these, in turn, afford opportunity for the introduction of songs. Miss Williams herself sings "Don't Turn My Picture to the Wall," "Hoopa, Father Doesn't Care" and "Ooo-Ooo-Lena," three of the most popular among others. A feature of the entertainment is the interpolation of the farce by J. M. Barrie, "A Slice of Life," with Mr. Carle, Miss Williams and William Danforth in the three roles. Joe Smith, well-known for his dancing, is a member of the cast.

The boy's appetite is often the source of amazement. If you would have such an appetite take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only create a healthy appetite, but strengthen the stomach and enables it to do its work naturally.

PLOT TO GET HIM OUT OF THE WAY

Alleged Conspirators Sought Life of Burns.

TALE TOLD ON WITNESS STAND

According to Testimony of Raymond Burns, Herbert Hockin, Secretary of Iron Workers' Union, Told Him the Plan Was to Place Infernal Machine in Room Next to One Occupied by the Big Detective.

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.—In the dynamiting cases Raymond Burns and Detectives Ott, Keller and Duncan were interesting witnesses. and it came out in their testimony that a suitcase had been arranged with dynamite and clockwork to be exploded near Detective William J. Burns to prevent the unearthing of the destroyers of the Los Angeles Times building. Ott, Keller and Duncan told of their trip into the woods of Wisconsin and the meeting there with the hunting party which included McManigal and J. B. McNamara. They had followed McManigal from Chicago to see where he would connect, with the object of finding J. B. McNamara, whom they were tracing at J. H. Brice, the name he had used in California.

Raymond Burns testified that at a meeting with Herbert S. Hockin in Chicago, Hockin told him McGraw and Brice whom he (witness) was looking for, were Orville McManigal and J. B. McNamara. He informed him that McManigal was on the eve of going on a hunting trip in the woods of Wisconsin.

It was while Detective Burns was on the trail of the dynamiters, said the witness, that Hockin told him of the plot formed in California to kill the detective. A suitcase was to be loaded with explosives and the clockwork arrangement for setting it off, and a man was to follow Burns from Los Angeles to Portland or Seattle and put the suitcase in a room in the hotel next to one that Burns should occupy. The explosion was to take place after midnight, when the man who had followed Burns with the suitcase could be far away. Tveitmo said, according to Hockin, that they would never be safe till Burns was out of the way.

NEW SCHOOL LAW

Has Had the Effect of Securing More Sanitary Schoolhouses.

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.—The industrial and agricultural education commission, appointed by the 1911 legislature to examine conditions in Indiana schools and report on the feasibility of establishing industrial and agricultural education therein, has made the final draft of its bill for the legislature and reported on the subject to Governor Marshall.

The report recommends strongly the adoption of both phases of the "new" educational ideas and the bill provides for such a law.

Figures made public by the state board of health in the interests of Indiana schools and the state sanitary schoolhouse law of 1911, show that a total of $3,677,830 has been spent in Indiana either in the erection of new schoolhouses or the remodeling of old to conform to the new law. The tabulation of the results of the sanitary schoolhouse law in Indiana is expected to go far toward inducing the next legislature to take even further steps in public hygiene, particularly regarding the public schools of Indiana.

Fatal Freight Wreck

Liberty, Ind., Nov. 30.—Engineer Percy Shephard of Hamilton, O., and Fireman Sylvester Adams of Indianapolis were killed and three other trainmen badly injured when two freight trains collided head-on at a sharp curve near Brownsville. The locomotives were demolished and eight cars of freight piled in a heap.

Little Chance to Recover

Logansport, Ind., Nov. 30.—Mary Caw, aged thirteen, who was shot accidentally by Joseph Hill, aged thirteen, when they were hunting rabbits, apparently has little chance to recover. The bullet pierced her abdomen and lodged against the spine.

His Test Car Skidded

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.—Thomas E. Hetzner, twenty-eight years old, a tester for a local automobile factory, was killed when the car in which he was riding threw a tire, skidded and plunged into a fence.

He Didn't Have a License

Greenfield, Ind., Nov. 30.—H. E. Wright, a young man who for several months has been practicing osteopathy in this city, was found guilty of practicing medicine without a license and fined $50.

Escaped Convict Arrested

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 30.—Claude Poulston, an escaped convict from the Texas penitentiary, is under arrest here charged with robberies which have been going on for a week.

Teachers Meet at Evansville

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 30.—The sixth annual convention of the Southwestern Indiana Teachers' association is in session here with an attendance of about one thousand.

THE CZARINA

Crazed by Grief, Russian Empress Attempts Suicide.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—Code dispatches received from St. Petersburg say that the czarina attempted to commit suicide after being informed by court physicians that there was no hope for the complete recovery of Grand Duke Alexis, the young czarévitch. No details of the manner in which she tried to end her life are given in the dispatch.

PHILIPPINE DISASTER WAS OVERWHELMING

Report Has It That 15,000 Were Killed.

Washington, Nov. 30.—According to dispatches received at the bureau of insular affairs, great loss of life and property has resulted from a typhoon which swept a part of the Philippine Islands. The governor general of the Philippines cabled that the destruction of the town of Tacloban practically was complete. The telegraphic communications were interrupted as a result of the storm, and so news of the great loss of life was much delayed.

Three-fourths of the town was destroyed. It is stated, and all other houses were partially damaged. How extensive the loss of life is is not yet known. Tacloban has a population of about 15,000. Capiz, the capital of the province of that name on the north coast of the island of Panay, with a population of 20,000, also was in the path of the storm and was greatly damaged. One report has it that the loss of life in the islands will reach above 15,000.

MARK OF MERIT

Mabel Boardman Receives Distinguished Honor From Mikado.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The conferring of the "Fifth Order of Crown" upon Miss Mabel Boardman by Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, in recognition of Miss Boardman's distinguished services to the Red Cross, has been announced in a letter from Marquis Matsubara, head of the Japanese Red Cross, to President Taft.

The emperor, the letter states, regards Miss Boardman as one of the greatest women of the world, and has followed her work in the Red Cross with deep interest. The order conferred on her by the emperor was established in Japan by his father, the late Emperor Mutsuhito, for the recognition of meritorious services rendered by women.

Miss Boardman, while holding a comparatively minor position in the American Red Cross, is recognized generally as one of the prime movers and executives of that organization.

HYDE GUILTY

Jury Convicts New York's Former Chamberlain of Bribery.

New York, Nov. 30.—Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, was convicted of bribery as a public official by the jury which heard his case in Justice Goff's court. The conviction carries with it a maximum penalty of ten years' imprisonment and $5,000 fine. Sentence will be imposed next Wednesday morning by Justice Goff.

Gave Life Thinking to Save Child

Idaville, Ind., Nov. 30.—Charles Michaels, aged sixty, near this city, was burned to death when trying to save his two-year-old granddaughter, who he thought had been left in his burning residence. The child previously had been carried from the house by relatives who tried to warn Michaels. The house fell in shortly after the old man entered the structure.

Net Destruction of Vandals

London, Nov. 30.—So far as can be ascertained it appears that some 1,500 postal packets were damaged in London Thursday night by the introduction of acids, paint and ink into the pillar postboxes. Of this number the mail clerks were able to decipher the addresses on about 1,000. The other addresses are undecipherable.

AN ARMISTICE TO BE SIGNED

Movement Toward Peace Is Billed for Today.

MINISTERS GETTING TOGETHER

Encouraging Word Comes From Scene of Conference Between Turks and Allies, Indicating That Long Sought Armistice Will Be Signed Today. After Which Negotiations Looking to Declaration of Peace Will Begin.

London, Nov. 30.—"A newspaper in close connection with the government asserts," says a Constantinople dispatch, "that it has received a direct intimation that an armistice will be signed today. The terms of the armistice will leave Adrianople to the Turks. The peace negotiations will begin immediately on a basis which has already been determined."

Two divisions of Turkish reserves surrendered to the Bulgars near the little village of Marhamli between the port of Dedeagatch; on the Aegean and Demetika, on the railroad line to the north. Demetika is but a short distance southwest of Adrianople, around which the Bulgarian and Serb besiegers are steadily tightening their lines. The announcement of the surrender of the Turkish troops comes from Sofia.

There is rejoicing in Belgrade over the fact that Dibra, the last important town in Albania, has fallen to Serbian arms. The capture of Dibra and the peaceful occupation of Durazzo on the Adriatic, from which there may yet come fighting with Austria, present the two contrasting characteristics of the Turks' fighting men in this war.

At Dibra the troops were worn by days of hand-to-hand fighting. They had been beaten at Uskub and Salonico and Monastir. They had seen their generals kill themselves on the field of battle and their officers flee, yet they could still fight, rather than surrender, when the Serbs came up to them at Dibra. At Durazzo, on the other hand, there was a fresh garrison well provisioned which surrendered without firing a shot. The Serbs swaggered into the city and their general sent a telegram, a direct slap at Austria: "We now have occupied Durazzo for perpetuity."

Europe is being kept in a state of nervous tension by the "preparations for eventualities" which the powers directly interested in the Balkan situation are making, and by Serbia's contemptuous attitude toward Austria's prohibition against the occupation by the smaller state of a seaport on the Adriatic. According to reports reaching here from Vienna, she is mobilizing her army on the Austrian frontier for the protection of her territory.

Elsewhere a more optimistic view is held, and although a warlike feeling prevails in Vienna and St. Petersburg, the rulers and ministers of Russia and Austria-Hungary continue working to avert a conflict.

Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria gets the credit for genuinely favoring a resort to arms. Emperor Francis Joseph opposes it, however, and the compromise with which the Austrian government received the news of the Serbian occupation of Durazzo convinced diplomats here that the emperor cannot be coerced and that the Austro-Serbian problem probably will be solved by peaceful methods.

RENEWED FRICTION

Treatment of Austrian Consul Arouses His Fellow Countrymen.

Vienna, Nov. 30.—The tension between Austria-Hungary and Serbia was greatly aggravated by the discovery that dispatches sent by Herr Prochaska, the Austrian consul at Pristina, from Uskub, had been withheld and that others which were forwarded had been mutilated in some parts and other passages forged by Serbians.

It was also learned that the Austrian flag had been insulted at Pristina and the archives of the consulate carried off by the Serbians. The great danger now is that Serbian officers will refuse to allow the parties guilty of these outrages to be punished. In this case grave historic events would ensue. Sober-minded people, however, are relying on the strong influence which Russia has over Serbia and which she is bringing to bear to maintain peaceful relations between that country and Austria-Hungary.

J. FRANK HICKEY

Chemist Who Confessed Cruel Murder of Boys.

HICKEY CONFESSES GRIMES TO POLICE

Murderer of Boys Unbosoms Himself.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.—A full confession of the murder on Oct. 12, 1911, of Joseph Joseph, the seven-year-old Lackawanna boy, and of Michael Kruck, the New York newsboy, Dec. 12, 1902, has been made by J. Frank Hickey. The whole story has been reduced to a formal statement and has been signed by Hickey.

The body of Michael Kruck was found in an excavation in Central park, New York, Dec. 10, 1902. Suspicion was directed toward Hickey at the time, and he was found in Buffalo in a maudlin condition. In a semi-delirious state he confessed the murder, but when the effects of the liquor wore off he repudiated the confession and was subsequently released owing to a lack of evidence.

Hickey attributed his crimes to the excessive use of liquor. When he was drunk, he said, he was possessed by an irresistible mania for killing boys. He was a chemist and for a short time was employed in Lackawanna. Postal cards he wrote to the police and to the father of the Joseph boy, telling where the lad's body had been concealed, led to his arrest, through a comparison of handwriting.

Hickey was arrested at a colony for inebriates at Whiting, N. J., Nov. 19. At that time he denied all knowledge of the crime.

postoffice rate for anything that is acceptable for mailing by parcels post. The local rate on one pound will be 5 cents and the zone rate is the same. For two pounds the local rate is 6 cents and the zone rate 8 cents. The local rate increases 1 cent a pound and 2 cents a pound for the zone. The maximum weight of any package is eleven pounds.

It must be understood that the local rate does not apply to Rushville alone, but to all territory in Rush county that is served by rural deliveries. The rates to other zones increase with the mileage traveled. For example, a one-pound package intended for the second zone, which embraces a territory of 150 miles, is 6 cents. Twelve cents is the charge for the same package in the eighth zone which is one thousand eight hundred or more miles from the first zone. A package weighing eleven pounds may be sent fifty miles for 35 cents, 150 miles for 46 cents, 300 miles for 57 cents, 600 miles for 68 cents and 1,800 miles or more, the territory covered by the eighth and last zone, for $1.32.

The postoffice department also has provided for a special delivery service for the usual special delivery fees for patrons living on rural or star delivery route and at free delivery windows. Packages may be insured against loss in an amount equivalent to their actual value, but not to exceed $25 on the payment of a fee of 5 cents. Distinctive stamps will be provided and they must be used on all parcels, but they may be mailed in quantities of not fewer than two thousand identical pieces without stamps affixed, the postage being paid in money.

STANDING BY PLATFORM.

Muncie Press: The "progressive" state platform demanded the commission form of government for cities. But the "progressive" politicians in Indianapolis and other cities of the state, instead of assisting in securing the enactment of such legislation, eliminating party politics from municipal government, are already trotting out candidates for municipal office and betraying their insatiate hunger for political pie.
